

Time Tracking and Management

Reduce administrative overheads, improve accuracy and make completing and approving timesheets faster and easier for employees and managers

Stay on top of time

Cezanne HR's integrated Time module lets you take advantage of the data you already have in your Cezanne HR People system, and the optional Absence module, to centralise and simplify how time is recorded across your whole organisation.

Capture the details you need

You'll have the flexibility to configure Time to log the information your business needs, whether that's to drive payroll, billings or simply help improve visibility and efficiency. You can decide to just record the hours that employees work, or break time down by projects, activities and type (for example, travel or overtime). You'll have the option to select different approval workflows, and even use different approaches for different groups of employees.

Encourage completion

Once employees are associated with a timesheet, the system takes care of the rest, automatically notifying them when they have a task to complete. Since Time is built on the same technology as the rest of the Cezanne suite, employees simply complete their timesheets using the same, secure and familiar Cezanne HR environment.

Improve accuracy

Timesheets have been designed to be straightforward to complete. They can be set up to show employees only the projects and activities they are working on, and automatically reflect their working hours. If an employee logs time that doesn't match these hours, or enters hours on a non-working day (such as a bank holiday), the system warns them, so they can double check their entries.

Since Time is in the Cloud, employees can complete their timesheets when it suits them. Perhaps from their home tablet or PC - and not when they are rushing to leave the office on a Friday evening.

Make sign off seamless

As completed timesheets are submitted, the system automatically notifies the approving manager(s).

HR can decide who the approvers are (for example, the employee's supervisor, org unit manager, or someone who is responsible for a specific time plan), and what permission they have to edit, approve or reject timesheets.

If a timesheet is rejected, the employee is automatically notified, so can review and re-submit their information.

Benefit from data

With all of your timesheet information in one place, you'll find it simpler to generate accurate information for payroll, and see how time is being spent.

For example; to track time against specific projects; see the make up of billable and non-billable hours; check on overtime; and review how much time is allocated to other activities – like training, mentoring or administration. It's a powerful source of data that can help with everything from performance reviews to resource planning.

Take an integrated approach

Use Time alongside Cezanne HR's optional Absence module and any time booked off or sick leave will automatically appear in the employees' timesheets. Mistakes are less likely, and it's clear to both employees and their managers when employees are working – and when they are not.

We've also made it simple to upload data from independent clocking in and out systems, so you can take advantage of the extra functionality of Cezanne HR for people and absence management.
